1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
2. Claims 1, 2, 4-11, 14-16, 18, 32, 33, 35-39 and 46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Chavkin US 4,613,497. The claims remain rejected for the reasons set forth in Paper No. 30, mailed August 28, 2003. Applicants state the polysaccharide gums disclosed in Chavkin form complexes in combination with metal salts to form gels. Applicants further state the properties of the Chavkin complexes are well known and apparently different from their compositions. Applicants further state the compositions of Chavkin, being dependent on the formation of the complexes they have described cannot adequately swell in the stomach to be retained and provide the spatial control that is an aspect of applicants' claimed invention. The claims at issue are considered to read on applicants' rejected claims. Applicants claim 1 recites a swelling agent. The Chavkin reference while not showing the identical agents of applicants does show gelling salts, which in the examiner's opinion will exhibit a degree of swelling. Applicants arguments are directed to properties of specific compounds. However the claims rejected are not limited to the particular compounds. The scope of applicants' rejected claims reads on the prior art of record.
3. Claims 3, 12, 17, 19-31, 34, and 40-45 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 13 and 47-50 have been canceled.
